The Bristol County Tuberculosis Hospital is situated on the north side of Oak Hill Avenue, on land formerly known as Talaquega Park, between Briggs Corner, Reynolds and Handy Street Corners, Attleboro.

The land comprises 89 acres, divided approximately as follows: 39 acres north of Oak Hill Avenue, and 50 acres south of Oak Hill Avenue. Twenty acres cultivated; 30 acres pasture; 39 acres woodland, including a pond, or lake, so called, of 6 acres.

VOCATIONAL THERAPY.

Men patients were not physically able to undertake any work on the farm, or elsewhere without harmful results. A few of them, however, did excellent basketry and tray work.

Women patients able to do any kind of work were few. With the exception of light flower garden work, planting, weeding, culling, and watering plants, knitting, basket work and the care of paper napkins and towelling, nothing more was accomplished, for obvious reasons.

LABORATORY.

Pharmaceutical.

Various ex-tempore preparations have been made from time to time, as occasion required, viz:

Powders, ointments, pastes, liniments, mixtures, infusions, tinctures, prescriptions, elixirs, syrups, extracts, solutions, etc.

Chemical.

Alcoholic and other combinations have been prepared for bathing, rubbing, and hospital uses, as outlined in Regulation No. 35 of the United States Internal Revenue Department. Various chemical reactions, tests, etc., have been determined, urinary and other examinations made.

Microscopic.

Examinations have been made as follows:
123 Sputum tests for Tubercle Bacilli.
102 Examinations for Urinary findings.
22 Widal tests for Typhoid Fever.
10 Fecal tests for Tubercle Bacilli.
6 Klebs Loeffler tests for Diphtheria.
4 Blood examinations for Malaria.

CONSTRUCTION, IMPROVEMENTS, REPAIRS.

A—Inside the Buildings.

The work of excavating under the Men's Ward and the building of piers from the new floor level, has been continued as circumstances permitted.

The walls and ceilings of various rooms and corridors have been painted. The floors and woodwork have been varnished and the furnishings finished in accordance with present day hospital standards.

An annunciator board carrying an auxiliary set of silent call signals from each bedside, has been installed in the office of the head nurse, thereby assuring a more prompt and efficient response to emergency, and night calls.

An electrically operated gong controlled from the nurse's office, has been installed over the rear entrance door between the wards, to call outdoor patients.

In each diet kitchen, a large hood has been installed above, and connected to the ventilating duct, and with the aid of an electrically driven blower, the odors of cooking are effectually removed.

A stage platform, built in sections for easy installation and removal, with necessary footlights and curtains, has been provided for use in the dining room, when plays or entertainments for the benefit of the patients require its use.

B—Outside the Buildings.

The Administration Building, with part of the Ward Building and Corridors, has been painted, and work on the remaining part is progressing as weather and circumstances permit.

Owing to a lack of provision for proper ventilation at the time of construction, the hard pine floor of the Men's piazza has decayed, necessitating a new floor, which has been laid of cypress stock with ample space between boards for ventilation.

On account of the inability of the existing cesspools to care for sewage from the Administration Building, a new cesspool has been built on the opposite side of Oak Hill Avenue, to which, after passing through a grease trap near the building, the waste from the laundry is carried. This is for temporary relief only. In the near future a system of sewage disposal by filtration or otherwise, to be approved by the State Board of Health, must be provided.

A corn crib with a capacity of 600 bushels has been built, with lumber from trees grown on the premises.

A rustic shelter for the men patients has been built on an elevation overlooking the lake, using cedar trees as cut on the premises, for posts, plates, braces and rafters, and covered with roofing paper over bark edged boards. A similar shelter has been provided in like manner for the women patients. A third shelter similar to the others, for the use of the hospital children has been planned.

RECOMMENDATIONS

That a portion of the lake south of the runway to the ice house, be excavated to afford a depth of three and one-half feet of water, and the material used to form a walk at the edge of the lake.

That the landscape work be continued.

That one rustic-built shelter be constructed in the woodland for the benefit of children.

That an open porch be constructed at the rear of the Hospital overlooking the woodland and lake, thus affording ideal outdoor conditions for patients.

That an additional number of steamer chairs, or wheel chairs, be provided, for the needs of patients.

That additional equipment, mechanical, clinical and surgical, be provided.

That a small operating room be provided and equipped.

That an emergency room for pregnant cases be provided.

That quiet quarters be arranged for mental cases, so equipped, that no injuries may be sustained.

That a children's open air pavillion, school or play room be provided for under weight, under nourished, or infected cases.

That a smoking room be provided for ambulatory patients.

That social or game rooms be provided for patients.

That an "X Ray" room and plant in the basement be equipped and furnished for better clinical and other necessary hospital work.

PRODUCE FROM THE FARM.

The farm has furnished the Hospital with the following produce:

|---|---|
| Cabbage | Muskmelons |
| Carrots | Okra |
| Cauliflower | Onions |
| Corn | Parsley |
| Cucumbers | Parsnips |
| Beans (Butter) | Pork |
| Beans (Shell) | Potatoes |
| Beans (String) | Radish |
| Beans (Yellow Eye) | Rareripes |
| Beets | Swiss Chard |
| Egg Plant | Squash |
| Green Peas | Tomatoes |
| Green Peppers | Turnips |
| Lettuce | Watermelons |

MILK SUPPLY.

The milk supply is obtained from the Bristol County Agricultural School. It is delivered daily, in clean up-to-date sanitary containers, and is of good quality, the equal of the best dairies within the county.

ICE SUPPLY.

A pond of about six acres has supplied approximately thirteen hundred tons of ice.

ENTERTAINMENTS.

Social and Otherwise.

The Entertainment Committee, composed of department heads was appointed and organized. The main object, however being the entertainment of the patients, so far as that could be brought about, having in mind their condition, progress and ability.

To these entertainments the nurses, help, resident and non-resident employees participated or were invited, the occasions being mutually enjoyable and interesting. A piano added to the musical features of the entertainments.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS.

To the Catholic and Protestant, and other clergymen who have attended to the spiritual needs of the patients, we wish to extend our appreciation.

During the year, acknowledgments have been sent to many people who have donated clothing, flowers, fruit, and the reading material for which we are likewise grateful.

We are especially indebted to all those who furnished entertainments.

To the heads of departments and certain loyal employees, we extend our thanks for their co-operation and faithful service.

To the Trustees, we are deeply grateful for the support, counsel, and confidence, given us during the past trying year.

REPORT OF DIRECTOR OF AGRICULTURAL SCHOOL.

To the Trustees of the Bristol County Agricultural School.

GENTLEMEN:

Herewith I submit a brief report on the work of the Bristol County Agricultural School for the year 1921.

As the finances of the institution are handled by the County Treasurer, and a report of receipts and payments is included in his report, no reference need be made to them here.

The steady development that has characterized the history of the institution from the beginning has continued during the past year. Special attention has been given during the year to the better organization of the courses of study offered at the school, and to raising the standard of teaching.

The school, when it began work eight years ago, was one of a group of pioneer schools that undertook to adapt the vocational idea in education to the needs of young people who are interested to educate themselves for some line of farming and who could not avail themselve of opportunities offered at the Agricultural College, or who did not desire the type of education that a college gives.

The easy thing to do would have been to build up an impressive enrollment of young people by giving them merely the book-study of farming and the facinating laboratory study that can so readily be arranged with the things that grow—the fruit, the flowers, the dairy stock and the poultry and pigs, and let them get their business experience on the farm as best they could.

The more serious problem that confronted these pioneering institutions was to undertake the teaching of farming as a productive business rather than a mere series of pleasant laboratory exercises, to give the pupils training in the farming operations, but more than that, in some measure to teach them industry and right management, a much more difficult task.

Agricultural School, Segregansett.

The Bristol County School undertook to meet the problem fairly, and some progress has been made toward the solution of it.

A first factor in the problem was to find men for the teaching staff who not only had the scientific and practical training for the job, but who had not been so far divorced from their overalls that they had no relish for manual work. By a process of elimination such instructors have been secured.

A second factor in the problem was that text books and courses of study available were wholly unsuited to the task before us. This phase of the problem has not been solved, but has been given earnest attention from the beginning, and has been made more particularly a subject of study during the past year. Some progress has been made. Much remains to be done.

ENROLLMENT.

The enrollment in the school continues to gain, the present enrollment being 75 as against 67 a year ago. Quite as important as the increase in numbers is the steady gain in the type of pupils enrolled. There are fewer and fewer misfits, pupils unfitted for the vocation, a constantly larger proportion of sturdy, earnest fellows who become thoroughly interested in farming.

The group of ex-service men in training here has reached the number 15, and a request has been made by the Federal authorities that this work be made a separate department with a special instructor to care for their interests. This will undoubtedly be done.

MATERIAL IMPROVEMENT.

Among material improvements at the institution during the year may be mentioned construction of a new garage and repair shop by contract; the enlargement of the hot water system at the school to meet the growing needs of the school; the construction of a new ice house, and of eight new colony houses for rearing chicks, now being built by the pupils; and the purchase of the Phillips' lot adjoining the school property on the south, which will be used chiefly for growing small fruits.

PUPILS CERTIFICATING FOR COLLEGE.

During the year arrangements have been completed whereby worthy graduates of the Bristol County Agricultural School may be certified for entrance to the regular courses offered at the Massachusetts Agricultural College as candidates for the Bachelor degree in regular standing and without condition.

Not many of those who enroll at this institution will attend college. Most of them will go directly into the farming for which they are training; but it is important that the way be not closed to those who desire to attend college and are capable of doing college work.

EXTENSION SERVICE.

The demand for extension service and instruction from the school has continued active. The resignation of Miss Edith Gordon from the position of Home Demonstration Agent, and a lapse of several months before refilling the position by hiring Miss Flora Miller, has resulted in incomplete service in that agency. The six weeks she has been with us, Miss Miller has spent getting in touch with the different community groups and local leaders.

From the annual reports of the other two agencies we glean the following:

|---|---|
| The County Agricultural Agent, Mr. Ide, has arranged one Annual Meeting with an attendance of | 75 |
| 22 Committee meetings with an attendnce of | 132 |
| 152 Community meetings with an attendance of | 3976 |
| 3 Observation and study hours with an attendance of | 115 |
| Total number of farm visits made | 469 |
| Office consultations | 248 |
| Personal letters written and mailed | 1625 |
| Circular letters written and mailed | 985 |
| One two-day extension school was arranged, with an attendance of | 44 |

The Farmers' Show and Sale held at the Agricultural School, to which the Agricultural Agent gives much time, was continued and with notable success. During the year the Farm Bureau has been organized in the country as a separate and independent organization with nearly a thousand paid-up members, but the Executive Committee of the Bureau has been made the Advisory Council for the extension work of the Agricultural School.

The Junior Agricultural Agent, Mr. Wyeth, reports a total enrollment in the Agricultural Club work of the county of 418, with products by these Club members approximating $2500.00; that 140 demonstrations have been given, with an attendance of 476; that 300 home visits have been made, 225 club meetings attended, with a total attendance at these meetings of 1225; that 6 study tours have been arranged, with an attendance of 85.

These consultations and demonstrations have to do with almost every phase of farm work and life.

The figures and facts are incomplete in that they represent only the service that comes under the immediate supervision of the agents. Much similar service is rendered directly by the regular instructors and Director of the school, of which no systematic record is kept.

A GLANCE AHEAD.

Among the needed improvements for the coming year may be mentioned the following:

1. With the coming of an electric current into the district in which the school is located, the barns, garage and other buildings should be electric lighted. Aside from the convenience of electric lighting, this is a wise precaution as protection against fires. The pumping system that supplies the institution with water should also be electrically driven and controlled.

2. Another large hen house similar to the one now in use can be built by the pupils during the coming summer, and, with the colony house already under construction, will go far to bring the equipment of this department up to commercial size and make it adequate to the needs for instruction purposes.

Poultry raising is an important industry in Bristol County, the poultry products amounting to nearly a million dollars a year, and the county is admirably suited for an extension of the industry. This department at the school should be well supported.

3. If found practicable, the rooms in the upper story of the school building that were not finished when the building was constructed, should be completed during the coming year. Extra classrooms are needed and the library is also a necessity.

4. The time is ripe for a program of reforestration of the lands of Bristol County. There are nearly 300,000 acres of woodland and idle land in the county and it is a safe statement that a third to a half of these acres could profitable be set to forest trees, to the immense advantage of the whole community a generation hence. A beginning should be made.

The Director recommends that the Trustees enter upon a policy of encouraging the reforesting of these acres by a definite program for forest-tree planting by individuals, by schools, by towns and other organizations in connection with Arbor Day each year. If it were begun modestly this year, with the planting of 50,000 or 100,000 trees, it would be a beginning well worth while.

Respectfully submitted,

G. H. GILBERT,

Director.

TRAINING SCHOOL REPORT.

Walpole, Mass., Jan. 1, 1922.

Board of Managers, Norfolk, Bristol and Plymouth Union Training School:

Gentlemen:

I herewith submit the following report as Superintendent of the Training School at Walpole, for the year 1921.

|---|---|
| Enrollment on Jan. 1, 1921, | 56 |
| Commitments during 1921, | 31 |
| Total enrollments for 1921, | 87 |
| Number released during 1921, | 39 |
| Number remaining Dec. 31, 1921, | 48 |

Average age at time of admittance about 13 years.

The average attendance through the year 1921 has been somewhat smaller than for 1920.

I am pleased to report that the boys have continued to show a great interest in their school work. A large proportion of the vegetables used were raised at the school with the active co-operation of the boys. Owing to the poor season the crops arriving at maturity were somewhat smaller than the previous year and though the cost of maintenance may have been affected somewhat thereby, the boys received the same advantages and training in their farm work as before. The manual training has been continued and results are very gratifying.

The health of the boys has continued excellent. No deaths have occurred, and calls for physicians have been occasioned almost wholly by cases of boys just admitted to the school or as the result of accidents at play or work.

REPAIRS.

The repairs to the school have included the painting of the buildings throughout, some alterations to the farm buildings and interior work in the main school building, and necessary repairs to the roofs.

Again I would call attention to the crowded condition of the dormitory, and trust that something can be done in the near future to relieve this serious condition.

No great changes have taken place in the work at the school or in the care or management of the boys.

I will conclude my report with a list of the products from the operation of the farm at the school, and would again extend my thanks for the continued generous support and interest shown by the Managers and the Public.

Among the products of the farm at the school have been the following:
